Community Honors Lee Toler, YAFA

At the recent testimonial to Lee Toler, head of Young Adults For Action, Raymond Procunier, state director of corrections, joined in praising YAFA and its leader.

Procunier told the audience that if there was a Lee Toler in every California city, the state's prison population "would go down 50 percent, I feel absolutely sure."

"He's the one guy in the whole state with free access to any institution at any time," Procunier continued. "The wardens have 100 percent faith in him--and that's saying quite a bit for a guy who's not only black, but who wears a beard."

The director said that Toler's most valuable aid has been in helping those who run the state's prisons understand the problems of black inmates.

Procunier added, "Our biggest problem is having an intermediary in the community to bridge the gap between our services and the real world outside. What you have here is an example for the whole country."

He then praised the members of the community, especially the citizens who helped get YAFA off its feet five years ago.

In addition to the director a number of local people praised Toler at the gathering held at the Rancho Canada Golf Club.

Seaside Mayor B.J. Dolan told of an occasion when Toler took a 17-year-old from the California Training Facility, who had been rejected by his parents and unable to enter the Army because of a felony conviction, and showed him that he still had a chance.

Seaside Police Captain Dale Anderson praised Toler for his efforts to keep things cool during racial crises.

Following these speeches, two men gave first hand accounts of how effective Toler is at his work.

Larry Mosely said "I was on a one-way trip to the pen. I was a 'D' student with the hostile attitude towards whites."

But, he says, his life changed after working with Toler.

He entered the University of California at Davis and later received his Master's Degree from Occidental College. Presently he is one of the youngest faculty members at San Jose State College and is an assistant to Assemblyman John Miller of Berkeley.

"Lee laid it on the line. He got to me, I sat in my cell and thought it over."

Golden then successfully completed his parole and "now I'm interested in trying to help other people. I'm trying to work for another miracle like me," he concluded.

Monterey attorney Charles H. Page then told the gathering that YAFA has placed former inmates in over 100 permanent jobs in the past year. In addition, he said, a tutorial program has been established to help ex-convicts make the transition to the community; a Pop Warner football program and a soap box derby have been started; and YAFA successfully sought a public defender's office and welfare aides.

The final speaker of the night was Toler himself, who thanked the community for the support they have given YAFA.

"Open-minded people gave us the opportunity to succeed," he concluded.

Novemberfest Is Sunday

The second annual Novemberfest of folk dancing and ethnic food sampling will be held at Monterey Peninsula College this Sunday, November 19, from 1-5 p.m. on the football field.

Sponsored by the Physical Education Department, the Novemberfest is free to the public. According to coordinator Diane Smith, the afternoon of activities will include dancing by MPC folkdancers and other groups from the peninsula. Foods from around the world will be available for tasting at nominal prices, she said.

Last year, said Mrs. Smith, many local residents came to enjoy the relaxed atmosphere and to participate in the dancing. The folkdancers will be in costume, she added. "Anyone who would like to participate, or even learn some folkdances, should come," she said.

CARE Opens Food Drive to Save Children

The holiday-season CARE Food Crusade campaign now under way appeals to Americans to help save children in countries where hunger and malnutrition are the biggest killers of the young.

Molly Farmin, Regional Director, announced $7,500,000 is needed to complete year-long plans that will help feed 28,000,000 people, nearly all children served regularly at preschool and nutrition centers, primary schools and other institutions. Operating costs contributed by local governments and United States donations of farm abundance will multiply the public contributions.

"According to recent surveys, in the emerging nations children under five form 20 percent of the population but account for over 60 percent of the deaths, with malnutrition the biggest single cause of child mortality," Miss Farmin stated.

"Moreover, malnutrition restricts the physical or mental growth of more than half the children who survive. CARE seeks not just to keep children alive, but to provide the nutrients that will enable them to grow into healthy, educated, self-supporting adults."

Linked with CARE self-help and medical aid, the Food Crusade helps develop self-sufficiency in 34 countries, from Latin America to Africa, Asia and Middle East. Child-feeding sites include facilities the agency helps build and hospitals where medical teams are stationed by MEDICO, a service of CARE.

While children have priority, food aid also goes to the aged, to disaster victims, and to impoverished families through food-for-work projects to build community improvements.

In addition to the U.S. commodities, donated after domestic needs are met, CARE buys other foods to match country and nutritional deficiencies. Under the direction of American staff members in each area, supplies are delivered in the name of the American people. Contributions may be sent to: CARE Food Crusade, 444 Market St., San Francisco, California 94111.

Continuous feeding programs operate in British Honduras, Sri Lanka (Ceylon), Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Israel-Gaza, Jordan, Kenya, Liberia, Macau, Pakistan, Turkey, Panama, Philippines, Sierra Leone, South Korea, South Vietnam, Tunisia. At times, as needs arise, CARE also sends food aid to supplement its other programs in Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Lesotho, Nicaragua, Nigeria, Peru, Uganda.

Retired Senior Citizens Projects Get $.5 Million Federal Grant

More than half-a-million dollars in federal grants have been awarded to 14 projects of a program for the State's retirement-age citizens, the executive director of the California Commission on Aging announced recently.

The executive director, David Baxter, said that the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), a national program designed to develop significant volunteer service in local communities for persons of retirement age, has made grants totaling $513,436 while the local projects have contributed an additional $96,000, which is 16 percent of the federal funding.

The California Commission on Aging, a component of the Department of Human Resources Development, has administrative responsibility for federal funds allocated to California under the Older American Act of 1965.

The 14 RSVP projects are located in San Diego, Palo Alto, San Jose, Pasadena, Newport Beach, Santa Monica, Thousand Oaks, Escondido, Santa Rosa, Contra Costa County and Los Angeles, which has four.

Baxter said that each RSVP is planned, organized and operated on the local level. A grant is made to an established

Letter to City Council From Former Mayor Louis Haddad

Dear Mayor and City Council: It appears that the Monterey County transportation system as now envisioned is in jeopardy due to second thoughts by the cities.

I would like to propose for your consideration that the City of Seaside underwrites the entire bus system for the Monterey Peninsula and Salinas, and provide bus transportation for everybody FREE OF CHARGE.

This system should include routing through Marina, Ft. Ord, Salinas and all of the Peninsula cities as well as some of the county areas. A FREE transportation system may well be a first in this nation, and could be accomplished at no expense to any of the taxpayers in Monterey County.

Here's how. Submit an application to the Local Agencies Formation Commission for annexation of the balance of the troop areas of Ft. Ord. Stipulate in the application that all of the cities will continue to receive the gas tax funds from the City of Seaside which would normally be lost through annexation. In addition thereto, commit the city (by irrevocable agreement) to providing sufficient funding from the "general fund" subventions to augment SB 325 transportation funds, underwriting the entire bus system.

An additional provision in the agreement should state that the city under this agreement commits to ALL of the additional "general fund" subventions realized as a result of annexation.

Since the question has arisen by others what services can Seaside provide Ft. Ord, this appears to be an excellent solution. Seaside cannot only provide the military much needed transportation service, but the rest of the county as well.

Service clubs could be asked to sponsor sheltered bus stops in Seaside for the military. There would no longer be a need for young soldiers to "hitch" a ride and risking "mugging" by drivers who prey on unsuspecting servicemen.

Community Thanksgiving Dinner Will Be Held

Monterey Peninsula's third Annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner will be held on Thanksgiving Day, November 23, in the Exhibition Hall at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. Potluck Dinner was so successful that its attendance of 400 was doubled in 1971, and the celebration is on the way to becoming a community tradition.

Families bring their guests, and community leaders, servicemen, retirees, and others bring food for the dinner (and their own tableware) and share the giant buffet. Any who cannot contribute are most welcome too. There are no fees or admission charges.

There will be no formal program and not a single speech. All the welcoming will be person-to-person. Guest will make their own entertainment--ball games on the lawn, singing circles, crayons and books for the children, and especially the pleasure of greeting old friends and meeting new ones.

In the spirit of sharing, the organizers invite all manner of assistance. They hope as many as can will lend a hand with cleanup. There will be a work party to do the decorating with refreshments on Wednesday afternoon from two to four. They will welcome donations of food or decorations or paper plates and napkins. Cash contributions are needed too, for the rent of the hall and for other basic expenses. Please make checks to Community Thanksgiving Dinner and mail to Box 6417, Carmel, Calif. 93921.

Road Gets In Way Of Marina Land Sale

Monterey Peninsula Unified School District trustees may fight county road builders over a slice of property in Marina. At their November 6 meeting, trustees said they would be willing to hire a private attorney, if necessary, to resolve the problem if it can be resolved.

The problem is this. The old Marina school district acquired the lot, at the corner of Hillcrest and Sunset, in 1932. Recently, the unified board decided the land would not be needed and to sell it. It was put to bid last month and the single bid received was rejected because it did not meet the minimum asking price.

Then it was discovered that a county road had been built on a slice of the property. But a search of records failed to reveal when the road was built--before the land was acquired by the schools or after.

County Road Department records show the road was constructed "sometime after the development of the subdivision in 1915."

The school's legal counsel advised that a court challenge "seems futile unless evidence can be found clearly establishing that the county constructed the road on the property during the period of ownership by the school district."

School officials will be searching records in an attempt to pin down the date the road was built and sale of the land will be held up pending that search.

Trustees did, however, pass a final resolution authorizing the sale of part of the Del Rey Woods School site to the City of Seaside for open space uses. The city entered a bid of $22,860 for the property, meeting the minimum asking price.

In another matter related to Seaside, the board viewed a proposed agreement between that city and the school district to provide recreation services for another year. The agreement will be sent to the Seaside council for action, and then returned to school trustees for approval. The agreement is similar to one signed by the two agencies last year.

Board members were told that the district still has no word on the amount of federal "impact" aid it will receive this year under Public Law 874. That law provides federal assistance for schools serving children of federally-employed parents. In past years, it has provided about $3 million annually to Monterey schools. The funding is in jeopardy, however, because of President Nixon's veto of an H.E.W. appropriations bill.

A. E. Barragan

They are even discussing how the Prisoners of War are to be sent home. Not in a group. Not the day they are released. Not any way any one has any control over, except the "Powers-that-Be."

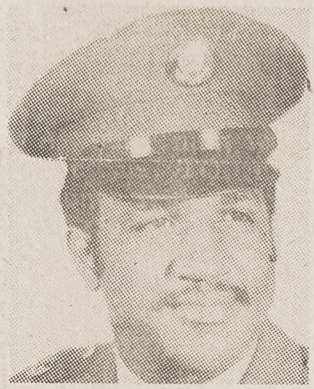

Depending on the prisoner's mental state, decides on when he sees family. He has to be "de-prisonized" first. Some take longer than others. There is no telling what hardships or transformations a man who has been in prison for years has experienced. Only a military psychiatrist can determine.

It is good and enlightening to know that all is supposed to be over soon after over 10 years of negotiating. And when it is all over, when all has run its course, this mass delusion, this delight in banding into hordes, yelling in hordes, and waving flags in hordes - when this modern mania for distorting human baseness into goodness has passed - when people have become not smarter, but tired - when all fights are over and the last of the liberals have passed away; then one day it will again become modern to be a liberal.

Someone will come along with a new discovery: he will discover the individual. He will say: "There is an organism called man, and he is the important thing. And the goal is his freedom. Groups are something secondary; the country is something secondary. The important thing

ARMY RECRUITER

Hi everyone. Some guys weren't made to work 9 to 5. Stick them in an office and before you know it they're crawling walls. They fidget at their desk, stare at the clock and daydream of the world beyond that stagnant little cubicle. The "real world," as they like to call it, is where a guy can fill his lungs with unfettered air, sink his feet into a bidding turf and feel the vibration of nature surging through his body. There are those who will tell you there aren't many jobs like that around anymore, and they're right. But there are some. And people who know where to look are filling some of them, and they're filling them in TODAY'S ARMY.

The people who work out of doors for TODAY'S ARMY enjoy it. One of the reasons they enjoy it is because "out of doors" sometimes turns out to be a totally unfamiliar setting in Europe or Asia. Or one of several interesting sectors of the non-continental United States. There are more than a few positions in TODAY'S ARMY that will get you outside.

One of them is Artillery Surveyor. An Artillery Surveyor in TODAY'S ARMY supervises and controls Army artillery survey operations. He identifies the starting station of the survey. In absence of survey control, he selects starting stations and determines the initiating point.

In addition, he selects, identifies and marks points to be surveyed such as control points, weapons positions, orienting lines, observation post, radar positions, radar orienting points, microphone positions, tracker positions, registration points and other important points related to the operations.

An Artillery Surveyor in TODAY'S ARMY measure distance and horizontal and vertical angles. He records his observations and verifies survey data and computations, such as field notes, field sketches, computing forms and the description of survey stations.

A young man wanting to be an Artillery Surveyor in TODAY'S ARMY can start at $280 a month with free room and board. In addition, the Army furnishes complete medical and dental care and 30 vacation days annually.

If you are interested in Artillery Surveyor or any other field in TODAY'S ARMY, please contact us at 431 Webster Street, Monterey, or call 372-4742 / 372-0553.

Officers' Wives Club Celebrates 25th Anniversary

VA Announces Provisions of Education Bill

More than a million GI Bill trainees will receive checks averaging nearly $450 during November as a result to an increase in their educational assistance allowances approved by the President on October 24.

J.E. Mullen, Director of the San Francisco VA Regional Office, said that VA computer personnel are making every effort to complete the necessary changes to get the checks out near the first of the month.

Because the new law permits the Veterans Administration to make the monthly payments to students in advance rather than at the end of each month of training, November checks will include both the November advance and the October payment which was due at the end of the month under the old system. The increases are retroactive to September 1st so those who were enrolled in September and continued in school through October 24 will receive the difference between the old and new rates for any part of September they were attending school.

Students need not contact the VA if they are already on VA rolls as GI Bill students, Mullen emphasized. Those who are already certified by their schools will receive the higher payments automatically. December checks and all subsequent checks will be paid at the new rate near the first of the month.

The Noncommissioned Officers' Wives Club of Fort Ord will celebrate its 25th anniversary on November 18, 1972 at the Main NCO Club with a gala dinner and variety show. Featured will be the history of the NCO Wives Club since 1947 with dances, songs and skits representing each era. Among those already accepting invitations are the three commanding generals at Fort Ord. It will be open to the public.

Past members or anyone having knowledge of the history of the NCO Wives Club is asked to please call Annette Schimmler, 242-5333; Pat Chavez, 384-6743 or Fran Hutchens at 394-9159. Anyone waiting ticket information should call the same numbers.

Scouts Win Protestant High Honor

RECEIVE AWARD - Reverend Howard Bull presents Protestant God and Country Medal to Marty Clem, David Williams and Richard Williams.

Three Boy Scouts received the Protestant God and Country award Sunday, November 5 at Church Services.

Frank Buck, Scout Executive Director of the Monterey Bay Area Council pointed out that 1/2 of one percent of the 8,000 Scouts in the area receive this award during a one year period. This is an average of 16 boys.

Marty Clem and David and Richard Williams were presented the award by the Reverend Howard E. Bull, minister of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula.

Marty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Clem, Jr., of Military Avenue, Seaside. David and Richard Williams are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Tom A. Williams of Holman Road, Carmel Valley and Gavin Work of #35 of Seaside attended the services with members from the Scout troops.

The award is given to Scouts for extraordinary study of the spiritual phase of their lives as it relates to their families and the various communities of which they are a part.

At the end of the year's study, the Scouts were required to present their progress and accomplishment to the Board of Governors of the church for approval. The Board had unanimously recommended the awards.

Fishing Is Good At Camanche North Shore

Stormy weather kept most of Lake Camanche's anglers at home the past weekend reports North Shore's marina manager, Art Price. Those who did brave the elements to try their luck at the big impoundment West of here were rewarded with nice catches of bass and catfish.

Largemouth bass anglers working the dropoffs in 15 to 20 feet of water with spinner baits and jigs scored best on lunker sized fish. Deep diving plugs took their toll also, but bucketmouths taken by this method ran considerable smaller. Price says the big bass are on a good bite and chances of getting a trophy sized largemouth are excellent.

Catfishermen were well rewarded for their efforts, especially by the big channels, many of which tipped the scales at 10 pounds plus. Mrs. Jeanne Ferguson of Sacramento brought in the largest cat, an 18 3/4 pound lunker channel which fell prey to a minnow. Best bets for the big cats are live minnows or clam fished in upper section of the lake by the bridge.

Kokanee fishing is very slow with only four checked in the past week. Crappie and trout are also rated very slow at present.

Rabbit Creek Hunting Club manager, Wes Lane reports good shooting for stocked pheasant and chukar now exists.

All Camanche North Shore facilities are open year around to serve those who want to enjoy the lake's excellent winter fishing. Address all inquiries to Camanche North Shore, RR1, Lone, CA. 95640 or call: (209) 763-5121.

is not that the country live, but that the individual live."

The man who will say these things will make a big hit. People will hail him, saying: "This is something brand-new! What courage! What an idea! We never heard of this before! This man is quite a genius among us!"

His books will be bought - well, the books of him imitators, for the first one is always the fool.

This new discovery will have an effect on the hundreds of thousands of blacks, browns, and reds. They will be thrown into a corner because no one wants to take the responsibility of verifying that they are "ready" for this new way of life. So as a precautionary measure, they will be suppressed, held back, re-examined, re-classified and placed on "hold" until a decision is made. This will be done without majority decisions and fear of the country. And this is the way things will be, on and on, year after year, until one day .... someone will come along with a new discovery, the individual. The cycle once completed, begins again.

Anything can happen once too many times. We all know that. How many know that the Indians have been fighting for their "promise" for 100 years? Or that the Blacks fought 400 years before they were able to even obtain a promise.

So they became worried. They became unhappy. The felt inadequate so often, hopeless, defeated, afraid. At times they were so filled with delight they ran into the streets proclaiming, "Stop, listen. Hear this wonderful thing."

But nobody paused to listen, out there, or even in their house where they lived. Nor even those closest to them, they were so absorbed in their own concerns. They nodded and murmured and made an effort, but they couldn't. We knew they couldn't before they began. There were those walls - husband and wife, parent and child, neighbor and neighbor, friend and friend. Walls of self. Walls of silence. Walls of words.

Even when they tried to talk to each other, new walls began to rise. They camouflaged, they held back, they made themselves sound better than they are. They were shocked and hurt by what was revealed. They sat privately in judgment, criticizing when they pretended to agree.

Then they discovered, with God there are no walls. God made them, and He knows their deepest emotions, their most secret thoughts, the good in you and the bad in you. He understands.

If He understands, you may ask, "Why turn to Him?"

Because as you talk to Him, your disappointments are eased. Your joys are enhanced. You find solutions to your problems, or the strength to endure what you must.

From His perfect understanding you receive understanding for your own life's needs.

Thank Him that you can always turn to Him. You've got to talk to somebody.

If someone whom you love and trust has betrayed you; someone you believed in has not lived up to that belief, while you are talking to Somebody, ask Him to bless and help the person who betrayed you.

Do not let the experience alter your concept of that person. Do not let it destroy your faith in him altogether. Remember and bless the rest of the good in him.

Do not let it destroy your faith in other people. Faith in friends, family, those you work with, is one of the dearest things you have. Without it you are empty and meaningless.

Ask Him to bless all the people you know and love and deal with. Keep faith with each other as best you can.

Ask Him especially to bless the person who disappointed you, for he needs the help even more. His weakness cries out for strength. Ask Him to intensify the good in this person.

While you have Him on the line - always - thank Him for keeping our little family intact by performing the Miracle of Miracles. He'll know what you mean.

Your Supervisor Reports

Loren Smith

One of the most beautiful and progressive Counties in the State of California is Monterey County and we are all justly proud to be a part of such an area.

There are many problems presently facing the County which must be solved if we are to remain in our strong position of leadership. Transportation, water supply, sewage disposal, air pollution and traffic are among the most pressing. Jobs for our local people and housing needs must be taken care of to keep our economy healthy.

These are a few of the matters which I hope to write to you about in detail during the next few weeks.

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

The Seaside Chamber is moving full speed ahead with new projects and programs. Many businessmen are getting involved in the development of Seaside as a great place to do business.

During October Chamber members elected seven new members of the Board of Directors for two year terms. The Directors elected are: Cecil Bindel, Cecil's Pizza Pub and Ice Cream Parlor; Don Butts, Butts Pontiac-Cadillac; Larry Nelson, Wells Fargo Bank; Carl Oliver, H & H Supply; Dick Penrose, Seaside Pharmacy; Fred Sandman; McDonald's of Seaside Mark Sincoff, Attorney. Bob McCauley, Cardinal Moving and Storage was eighth and will replace Stan Stewart of Bank of America, who was transferred out of the area.

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

Seaside will be spectacular this year during the Holidays, because the Chamber has decided to decorated the 100 ft. tall Pylons in the Monterey Peninsula Auto Center and turn them into giant Christmas trees. Golden garlands and lights will be strung from the top of the Pylons to the circle below. They will be seen for miles around.

Choirs will be singing at the Auto Center from December 18 to 22, and citizens are encouraged to come and hear Christmas Carols during this Season of Joy. The Seaside Human Relations Committee is organizing the Choirs.

The City of Seaside will put up their traditional Christmas Trees at Fremont and Broadway, at Fremont and Canyon del Rey, and at City Hall. They will also be putting a giant star at the water tower on the hill, which should be quite beautiful.

The Chamber will be sponsoring the annual Christmas Decorating Contest again this year. I will put more details in next week's column.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Chamber is busy working on a project which would not only honor the Military Personnel, who have shopped and worked in Seaside, but will also be a big event for civilians as well.

In January, we will sponsor "Military-Community Relations Days" (the name may be changed, but you get the idea). We will have a giant sale with all the merchants participating. Then, hopefully, we will have a well-known celebrity entertain for an evening at Monterey Peninsula College.

As I said, this is all still in the planning stages, but it does look good. We're getting a lot of cooperation from the USO, Fort Ord and the Navy Post-graduate School.

SEASIDE HIGH

The Seaside Chamber has been working with the National Alliance of Businessmen to develop a great new program up at Seaside High School. The idea is to help students become aware of the many different careers available to them when they graduate from high school. Wester Volkswagen has volunteered to begin the program by taking three or four employees (each with a different job, such as sales, service, mechanics and bookkeeping) up to the school to talk with the students about their work. The purpose is to tell it like it is... what kind of background you need to get into the automotive industry and what it is like once you get there.

Other businesses will also be asked to talk to the students... and to answer questions. If you'd be interested in participating in this career education program, please let me know at the Chamber.

Also, a retired teacher has notified the Chamber that she is available to help students, employees or people looking for a job to learn to speak clearly and to improve their grammar. Often we can go all the way through school and somehow miss the part about "good grammar." If you happened to see the movie "My Fair Lady," you will realize the difference it can make to know how to speak, read and write correct English. Sometimes not being able to speak correctly can hold us back. People think we're dumb because we can't talk right. And, besides, it's fun to know that you can grow and learn new things.

Anyway, this nice lady has volunteered to help anyone who would like to learn to speak or write or read correctly. Free! Also, if you'd like to know how to fill out forms to get a job or how to get through an interview, she'd be glad to help with that also. All Free! So, don't take this personally, but you may feel you need some help, or you may know someone who could make an even better impression if they could just talk clearly. Call the Chamber if you'd like to talk with this lady... she's really willing to help.

The next Board of Directors meeting will be at the Chamber on Thursday, November 30. Everyone is welcome, members, non-members, whoever. Have a nice Thanksgiving!

Bob Wood Reports

We in the Legislature may be faced with growing problems raised by some people which require students to remain in high school until they either obtain a diploma or reach the age of 18.

This comes about through many 16-year-olds and 17-year-olds who are way ahead of their elders. Outside the framework of the law, many have been leaving school, either as drop-outs or as truants.

We are facing this issue in the Legislature as a bill revising the compulsory attendance laws comes before us for consideration.

The author of the proposed legislation says his measure does not eliminate compulsory schooling for those between 16 and 18 years of age, but he thinks almost all the things he's proposing actually do occur now.

The author is suggesting that students in this age bracket may be exempt from compulsory schooling if they do the following things:

1. Attend a regional occupational center for job training.
2. Attend graded classes at a community college where they could comprise no more than percent of the total enrollment.
3. Pass a basic skills test developed by the State Department of Education after getting parental permission to take the test.
4. Enroll in what is called a continuation or part time school.

Some think that a youngster of that age, when he's not compelled to go to regular school (when the choice is his) is going to have a different attitude. Unfortunately, school attendance can be made compulsory, but school learning can not be. So some of our classrooms

REVENUE SHARING-CONTINUED

The majority of voters in Seaside approved Measure A-Open Space Conservation and Park District - which automatically increases the homeowner's tax burden by 10¢ a hundred next year! Citizens of Seaside will contribute $30,000 a year - or more - for many years to come to the Regional District. I sincerely hope that Seaside will receive some benefits, within the geographical boundary of Seaside, in return for the $30,000 annual contribution to this new District.

Public Bus Transportation. On September 1, 1972, the City of Seaside entered into a Joint Powers Agreement with all the other Peninsula Cities to subsidize Bay Rapid Transit for a six month period in the amount of $3,000 - Seaside's monthly share is $973,000. The Joint Powers Agency (Transportation) was formed on an interim basis with a clear understanding that it would only function until a County Transit District or a County Service Area could be formed - or Urgency Legislation could be introduced by Assemblyman Wood to enable the County to receive state and federal funds from gas taxes, LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) adopted Resolution No. 72-43 on October 30, 1972 to form a County Transit Service Area and transmitted the resolution to the Board of Supervisors to enable the Supervisors to establish a public hearing in accordance with law, prior to December 31, 1972. However, one requirement is that all cities, including Salinas, must officially approve the boundaries before a public hearing date is established. As of now, only Pacific Grove, Del Rey Oaks and Seaside have officially adopted resolutions approving the formation and boundaries of the Proposed County Transit Service Area. Salinas, Monterey and Carmel have either disapproved or tabled action regarding the County Service Area. Monterey's proposal is that the respective cities raise taxes to continue subsidizing BRT through the Joint Powers Agency agreement which means that Seaside would continue to pay one-third of the BRT subsidy for a long undetermined period. At least two years, and Seaside would be paying far more than its share.

If the County Transit Service Area had been approved, a tax of 1 1/3 cents would have been levied on assessed valuations only. This would have been fair to one and all because it is based on ability to pay.

In the event the Joint Powers Agency - i.e. representatives of all Monterey Peninsula cities are members - is determined to be the best solution for continued Public Transportation subsidy, I suggest that the tax formula to pay for this subsidy on a basis fair to all, should be on the assessed valuations of each city that participates. What is fair is fair. If the taxpayer in Monterey is levied 2 cents a hundred to pay for a bus subsidy, the same amount should be levied on Seaside's taxpayer or Carmel's and all the other cities likewise!

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

Like quizzes? Will Spiro Agnew be our President for one term or two terms? Is the Democratic Party still alive? Will Hubert run again in 1984.

The American people have spoken. It is significant that a poll taken a few months ago showing that 60 percent of our voters favored a continuation of the war in Vietnam was matched almost exactly by the 60 percent Nixon victory over McGovern. This is the way it should be in a representative republic, and the 40 percent of our people who are unhappy about it might as well get used to it.

Many citizens still have not noticed that the importance of the two major political parties has been overshadowed by the importance and impact of the two or more widely different schools of thought, Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, for example, happens to be a Democrat, but like another loyal Democrat, John Connally of Texas, Mr. Jackson is almost a carbon copy of Mr. Nixon, who is a Republican.

Thus we have pro-war Democrats from all over the country, citizens and politicians alike who join many pro-war Republicans in supporting Mr. Nixon, while many anti-war Republicans like McCloskey and Hatfield join anti-war Democrats in opposing the President. And it is to Mr. Nixon's credit that he made his position are loaded with youth who have no wish to be there, whose aim is not to learn but to escape from learning. Such a classroom, of course, we all know is not a favorable learning environment.

One educator has pointed out that the community still has the obligation to ask its educational agencies to provide an environment that young people up through adulthood will want to stay in, and accept.

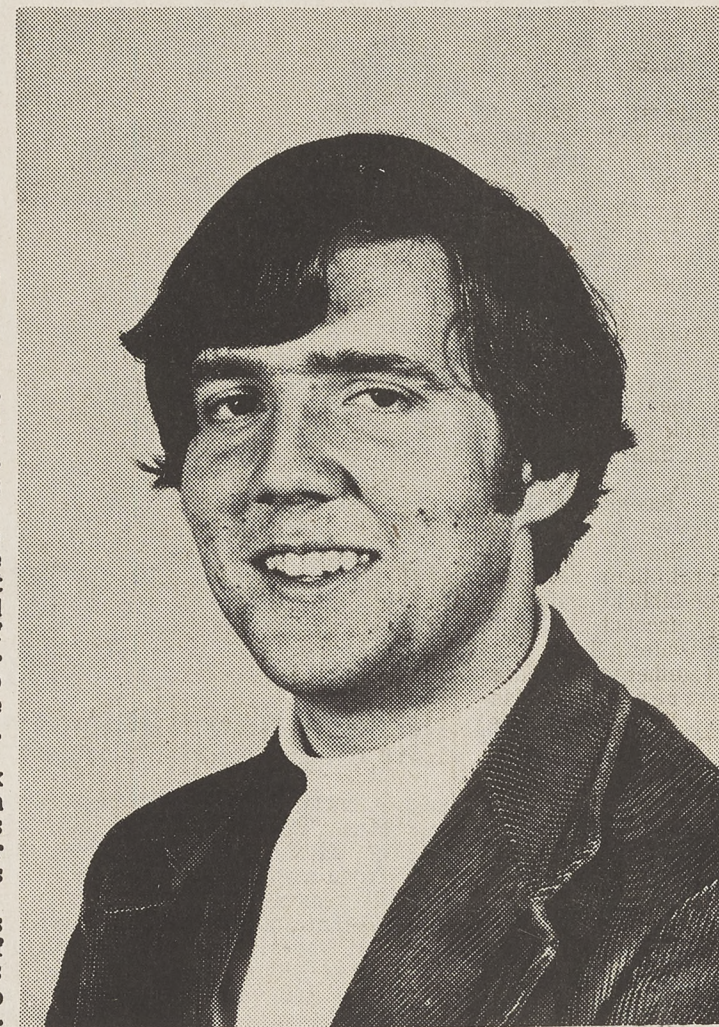

Another educator reported that one out of five students in the 16-18 year bracket were either dropping out of school or taking extra credits so they could graduate early. He feels potential high school drop-outs might be identified and assisted in the elementary grades.

Another school authority says he is opposed to compulsory laws for education for the same reason he favors elective physical education. In other words allowing students to take physical education if they so desire and forget it if they don't care to.

With these various arguments, one can see what we in the Legislature will be up against in determining what is right and what is wrong in the proposed legislation. I doubt if a decision will be made this session.

Tony Sollecito

Tony Sollecito is native of California and a resident of Monterey where he was born and has lived all his life. He obtained his formal education through the Monterey Public School system. Tony is presently attending Monterey Peninsula College where his Major is Police Science.

Tony's future plans include becoming a police officer once he graduates from MPC. While attending school, Tony has worked at various jobs on the Monterey Peninsula. For the past year and a half, he has worked with the Seaside Police Department Community Relations Division. Even though Tony and the other people who work with Community Relations are called Aides, they are much more than the name implies. Tony is a very active figure within the division, contacting citizens in regards to better protecting their homes, helping the police officers in additional burglary investigations, talking to different civic groups, giving talks to the students in the local schools, administering tours of the police department, and assists the Community Relations director in conducting classes to Fort Ord personnel.

NOTE: I ran across a paper that was written by a high school student the other day which reflected the knowledge of most of the students in regards to the workings of our local courts. After I read the paper, asked the rest of the class if they had been disappointed to find that the courts were being operated differently than they had thought. The general consensus of the class was "yes." The following is an excerpt from that paper:

Poof! That was the sound of my Perry Mason-like dreams going up in smoke. Gone are the images of the busy courtroom, well-prepared judges, and hero lawyers who battle their way brilliantly through witnesses to save their innocent clients...."

It might be interesting for you the reader who have never been inside the courtroom, to take time out of your busy day and visit our local court to get the real picture.

The Aquarian Gospel

Many people tell me that they would read the Bible, but most of it makes little sense, so why bother? Or they ask, what parts should I read?

Because, for centuries, especially in Protestantism, Christian leaders have said that the Gospel is easy to understand, it is plain and open, and anyone can understand it, people who try to understand it, and can't, think they are inadequate or else think the New Testament has nothing relevant to say for today.

Christian theologians think they themselves have the key to understanding of the scriptures through their scholarly methods of biblical criticism; taking into account the world view of the writers, the methods of putting together various ideas in scriptures, history, language, etc. But these people, although they would not admit it, have unlocked only one of the seven seals of the Book.

What I wish to point out is that the Bible, and especially the New Testament Gospels, do not speak of esoteric religion, that is, literal meanings and ideas. Rather, I would claim, the Gospels themselves are of the most esoteric (hidden) religious scriptures in all of the world's religions.

My main examples are the parables of Jesus. Full meaning of these can not be unlocked by either the average layman or by the biblical scholar, no matter how intellectually brilliant they may be, since they are working only on an intellectual level of perception. I say FULL MEANING because there are certainly various levels on which the parables may be understood, so the average person can always gain some truth for himself no matter what level he is on.

But essentially there are very deep truths in the parables which the average person can not understand. Jesus knew that only those with "eyes to see" and "ears to hear" could fully understand them. Jesus spoke in parables in his day precisely because most people would not understand the naked truth. Thus he refused to "cast His pearls before swine" lest they be mis-understood and mis-used. The reasons for the inability to understand are psychological. All men are on different levels of understanding and perception. All men are undergoing an evolution of their understanding, the evolution of their psyche or spirit-soul entity.

The deepest and essential truths of Jesus' teachings have been hidden from the Church at large for 2,000 years because only a few in each generation have the evolved perception to understand. Thus, there is an esoteric Christianity (open-plain) and an esoteric Christianity (hidden-complex). One is for the average person and one is for the evolved soul. Jesus said of this fact bluntly, "Many more things I have to tell you, but you can not bear them now. But I shall send to you the Spirit of Truth who will reveal all things to you." Thus the deeper truths are always available for those who are ready to understand them. It is always possible for a man to tap into the universal knowledge of the Spirit of Truth and thus understand, on deeper and deeper levels, the essential truths of Jesus' teachings and life.

Today many many people are finally able to "bear" these truths. Thus, much more of the inner teachings of the Master, once reserved for the few, may now be revealed to larger and larger segments of humanity. This new revelation I call the Aquarian Gospel, the gospel of Christ revealed IN DEPTH for the children of the new age, since they are now more spiritually mature.

The deeper levels of understanding are the Gospel (good news) itself, the very good news of the possibility of "re-birth," the truth that every man must be reborn in the Spirit, in order to fully experience life and God. The very premise of the Gospel is that every man has within him the God given potential to evolve out of mundane materialistic life and understanding into the clear light of wisdom and absolute God consciousness. When enough men have so evolved, so will the world be transformed; and love, peace, Truth and justice will reign on a planet come of age.

It takes much inner work to raise the individual consciousness to a new level. But it not only CAN be done, but is being done today on a far more intensified basis than in all of man's history.

If the Church has become irrelevant for youth today, it is not an indication of a lack of their interest and seeking for God, but shows that such people have begun seeking at far deeper levels than the Church at large is able to handle or help with.

Today we must have teachers in the Church who are more than preachers, scholars or social activists. The guides of the Church themselves must raise their own levels of spiritual consciousness in order to give any direction for the new age. If the Church can not provide such leaders, she will continue to promote the "blind leading the blind," and the True message of Christ will continue to remain in the hands of the few.

LARSON AND JENKINS

Jean Marie Larson and Donald Gent Jenkins, were united in marriage on Saturday, September 2, in the Post Chapel at the Presidio of Monterey. Father Charles Moore officiated the 11 a.m. rites.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Charles Larson of Marina, wore a floor length white satin gown, which featured the wedding ring neckline, long sleeves waistline illusion veil and cathedral train, which was designed and made by her talented mother.

Maid of honor was Miss Ruth Y. Mirikitani of Marina. Bridal attendants were Miss Christine Takahashi and Miss Barbara A. Kimitsuka, both of Marina. Juliet Coto of Seaside, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl.

The bride graduated from Seaside High School in 1970. She also attended the University of California at Santa Barbara.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louie W. Jenkins of Seaside. He chose his brother, Stephan P. Jenkins of Seaside, to serve as best man. Ushers were Thomas P. O'Brien of Monterey and the bride's brother, Allen F. Larson of Marina. The groom's nephew, Thomas Cota was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom has a sister Mrs. Linda R. M. Cota of Seaside and another brother, Robert A. Jenkins of Anchorage, Alaska.

Jenkins graduated from Seaside High School in 1967. He attended Monterey Peninsula College and is presently a student at Sacramento State University.

During the wedding ceremony, special music was provided by soloists Mrs. Rebecca O'Brien of Monterey and Walter Washington of Seaside. Organist was Miss Rita Tamayo, also of Seaside.

A reception immediately following the wedding was held at the Naval Post Graduate School's Officers' Club in Monterey.

The newlyweds are making their first home in Sacramento, where both are continuing their education.

'Carry-Over' Rule Is Explained

Under the "carry-over" rule of the medical insurance part of Medicare, doctor bills for October, November, and December may in some cases count toward the $50 annual deductible for both 1972 and 1973 according to Thomas J. Pelkey, Branch Manager of Social Security in Monterey, California.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay for doctor bills and a variety of other medical expenses of almost everyone 65 and over. Before payments from Medicare begin, the patient must meet the annual deductible--the first $50 of covered medical expenses accumulated in a calendar year.

"The carry-over rule helps the Medicare patient who might otherwise have to pay the $50 deductible twice in a short period of time," Mr. Pelkey said. "Once at the end of one year, again at the beginning of the next year. Under the carry-over rule, doctor bills for October, November and December which can be counted toward your $50 deductible for 1972, can apply to the deductible for both 1972 and 1973."

If a Medicare patient does not meet the 1972 deductible, he should send in all of his medical bills for covered services for the last 3 months of 1972, according to Mr. Pelkey.

The "carry-over" amount will be credited to your deductible for 1973," he said.

The bills should be sent in with a Request for Medicare Payment form, available at most doctors' offices and all social security offices. They should be sent to California Blue Shield, P. O. Box 7968, Rincon Annex, San Francisco, California 94119, the health insurance organization that handles medical insurance payments in Northern California.

WE OFFER THREE TYPES OF GROUND BEEF TO MEET DIFFERENCES IN TASTE, PREFERENCE AND USE.

TYPE	FAT CONTENT	OBJECTIVE APPROXIMATE RANGE

Regular Ground Beef ... 25% to 27%
Lean Ground Beef ... 19% to 21%
Super Lean Ground Beef 13% to 15%

For example, a one-pound package of regular ground beef would contain approximately 1.17 to 1.2 ounces of lean meat while a one-pound package of super lean ground beef would contain approximately 1.36 to 1.4 ounces of lean meat. Subject to preferences of taste, buy only as lean as you really need.

The former use of the names "Ground Sirloin," "Ground Round," and "Ground Chuck" was never intended to mean that the particular cut referred to was the only source of the ground beef sold under that name.

All of our ground beef is prepared with close attention and guaranteed to assure excellent quality. However, even with the most modern equipment and technology now available, it is not yet possible to guarantee that each package will fall within the fat content objective.

ALL OF OUR GROUND BEEF CARRIES THE FAMOUS SAFEWAY GUARANTEE.

It MUST please you or we will promptly refund your money.
